

I am astonished at the partisan stance Sinclair Broadcasting has taken in forcing their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary just before the upcoming election. The public airwaves free of charge, and this action is clearly not in the public interest.

The consolidation of the media in the hands of large companies is disturbing in its own right, but when those companies choose to participate in partisan politics, I am sure that the FCC needs to step in.

Please work to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Thank you.
